

From:
Isabella County Child Advocacy Center
Brad Vavzincak, Manager,
Social Media
2479 Rosewood Dr. Suite B
Mt. Pleasant, Michigan 48858
(989) 317-8787
Time: 30 seconds
Words: 140

For Release:
Monday, February 25, 2019

Message No.: 3

Production Note: Casey (KC) is an adult woman, nearing her forties, with a strong, mildly deep voice, and a motherly tone. Monica has an older motherly tone, and slightly softer than Casey. ANNCR has a slightly higher pitched voice than Casey, but she speaks with an inviting and warm tone.

(SLOW, DEEP, ACOUSTIC VIOLA UNDER)

(CELLPHONE RINGING,CONNECTING)

CASEY: Monica I need some advice, you always seem to know what's best.

MONICA: What's going on?

CASEY: My kids' behavior seemed strange, almost timid but then I noticed what looked like physical abuse, bumps and bruises. I want to know the best way to deal with this.

MONICA: Your kids need to see someone who can start healing the damages, and you need to get educated to protect them. I think you need to give The Child Advocacy Center a call. They only want to help.

MORE

CASEY: It sounds exactly like what the kids and I need. Thank you Monica.

(CALL ENDS)

ANNCR: For more information and to get help for a child you know suffering from abuse, call Isabella County Child Advocacy Center at nine-eight-nine, three-one-seven, 87-87 today. Or visit us on the web at Isabella-c-a-c-dot-org.

(SLOW, DEEP, ACOUSTIC VIOLA STOPS)

ANNCR: Creating a community free of child abuse and neglect, together.

###